

2nd Annual Conference

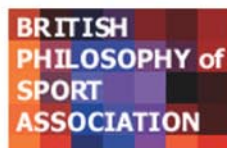

British Philosophy of Sport Association

The Louisa Centre, Stanley, County Durham

Hosted by

Derwentside District Council
Leisure Services

May 12th-14th 2005

Welcome

Derwentside District Council is delighted to welcome delegates from around the globe to the British Philosophy of Sport Annual conference. Derwentside is a district that takes its sport seriously and is proud of the current crop of Olympic, national and international athletes and coaches that are based in the district. Our more famous sons include former English National Football Coach, Sir Bobby Robson, Current international cricketer Paul Collingwood, current English National Women's Footballer, Karly Telford and Former World Boxing Champion Glen McCrory. What we value most, however, is the benefits of providing a wide range of sporting experiences to residents of the District and the power of sport to deliver across a range of educational, health, social and economic agendas.

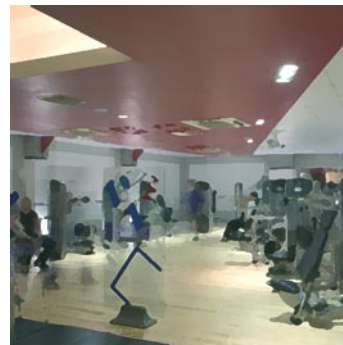

We extend to you a very warm welcome to Derwentside. We wish you a successful conference packed with first rate papers and debate, and that when you leave us you will do so with a greater appreciation of both sport and Derwentside!

Yours in Sport

CLlr Ann Taylor
Portfolio holder with responsibility for Sport
Derwentside District Council

The Louisa Centre For Delegates Sport and Pleasure

Travel Information

Derwentside is centrally located in the North East of England, with its northern border tracing the River Derwent along the Durham/Northumberland border.

Situated only 30 minutes away from Newcastle and 20 minutes from Durham City, access to Derwentside couldn't be easier.

By Car

Derwentside is situated close to the A1(M) Motorway, proving fast easy access from the South. From the North choose from the A1 coastal route or the A68 cross country 'holiday route'. From the West, the A66 provides a scenic cross-Pennine route from the Lake District and the M6 Motorway. Main access routes throughout the District are the A694, A693, A692 and A691.

By Train

With stations in Newcastle and Durham, trains run daily from London with a travel time of 2 1/2 – 3 hours. From Durham Station it's 20 minutes drive to the District and from Newcastle Station it's 25 minutes drive. Taxis are available directly outside both stations. For National Rail Information, telephone (0845) 7484950.

By Coach or Bus

There are several express coach services to Durham City and Newcastle from London and other major centres. A good network of local bus services gives a wide range of travel opportunities throughout the District.

For details of routes, fares and times contact Traveline on 0870 608 2608.

By Air

Derwentside is easily accessible from Newcastle and Teesside airports, both served by regular domestic and international flights. From Newcastle airport follow the A696 heading towards Newcastle upon Tyne and turn onto the A1 southbound. Follow the A1 and turn onto the A692 heading towards Consett.

Taxis are available at the airport.

For details of flight times and fares contact Newcastle Airport, telephone 0870 122 1488, Teesside Airport telephone (01325) 332811.

By Sea

Ferry services operate to North Shields throughout the year from Bergen, Stavanger, Gothenburg, Ijmuiden (Amsterdam) and Kristiansand, with additional seasonal services from Hamburg.

For ferry information, fares and times contact DFDS Seaways, telephone (08705) 333000, Fjordline, telephone (0191) 296 1313.

When you have made your travel arrangements please e-mail s.howell@derwentside.gov.uk with your arrival information. Steve will advise on the best means of onward travel. He will also be arranging transport for peak arrival times from Newcastle Airport and Durham Rail Station.
